Bowman Field Back To City-County Board

It was good news to many in Jefferson County to hear that Bowman Field, complete with acres of Army-developed land in its southeast corner is to be returned to the City-County Board under a new agreement reached Tuesday of this week.

J. B. Pierce, head of the legal department of the War Assets Administration, said that "only a few minor details" remain to effect the transfer.

The Government wartime lease will be cancelled, and the 52 acres turned over to the city, valued by the W.A.A. at $700,000. The tract returned is bounded by Dutchman's Lane and Beuchamp Road.

Forty-five acres will be leased for 25 years to the Army and National Guard along with 30 buildings on the property. Commercial airline operations will be valued to Standard Field. Fifty-two buildings now at Bowman will be sold by the War Assets Administration. The Army National Guard section.

The new transfer will not affect the veterans' housing program, which it is under the Louisville Housing Commission.

THE PRIMARY CHALLENGES DEMOCRACY

At Saturday's primary election Democrats and Republicans will choose such candidates as the majority of those actually voting desire to represent their respective parties as candidates at the November election. Those actually voting will "have their say," and their say, as determined by the majority, will be respected in accordance with the democratic system.

Candidates for both tickets will be chosen representing such important offices as County Commissioner, State Representative, and Governor, not to mention others of lesser importance. Regardless of what might be said about fraud, and the taking of undue and unfair advantage by political organizations, naming of these candidates is ultimately and absolutely up to the voters, or those whose privilege it is to vote.

So it is, Mr. Citizen, that the responsibility is with you. What you do at the primary counts for much. But it may be that what you do not do will count more. Some men are elected who, he who will, doubtless, make mistakes in their voting, but the seriousness of their error will not compare with the citizen who fails to do his part by democracy, in not voting!

The great crime against society as is often committed by corrupt political organizations is that they thwart the will and wish of the people. Church, Agency, are aligned with and abetting such organizations, and must bear a measure of the responsibility and the guilt.

To mention one of the outstanding challenges to all of Kentucky's lay voters who believe in good government, take the case of Harry Lee Waterfield, whose past record as a State officeholder is above reproach. As a State Representative, he combined units and remnants of a Democratic political machine, represented in most of all Kentucky's counties: a machine whose machinations and corrupt practices has, in times past, caused good Democratic voters to blush with shame from the Mississippi to the Big Sandy.

The average Democratic voter of Kentucky does not approve what the machine stands for, nor many of its perpetrations in the past. On Saturday they will be given an opportunity to support at the polls a good man who has been willing to make a personal sacrifice, financially. How will they respond?

Let the people speak, and the majority rule.

Commissioner Talks To Local Business Group

County Commissioner E. P. White, Jr. told Jeffersontown business men last Friday night that in a few years Jeffersontown would be a part of Louisville, "like Crescent Hill or other similar city subdivisions." He said that requests for new roads and improvements to old roads in the suburban areas brings to the Fiscal Court an ever-present problem.

The present county tax rate, according to the commissioner, is insufficient to meet the needs of rapidly growing communities such as Jefferson County. White had been invited to talk at the Jefferson County Chamber of Commerce luncheon, but he was unable to do so because of a conflict with the Fiscal Court.

White discussed needs for road repairs in the local community, particularly in the area of the new group. He promised action in the near future toward providing a smoother traveling service on Watertown Trail near town, promising to check into the matter.

The commissioner explained that the Fiscal Court had set a goal of $1,000,000 for county road work in 1947. He said, it is not nearly enough to meet the needs, but is the best that could be done.

Jeffersontown Bows To Buchel, Score 8 to 7

A thrilling 14-inning ball game was won by the Buchel baseball team over the Jeffersontown team, 8 to 7, on the local diamond.

Futch went the full route for the Buchel team, as did Martin for Buchel. Each pitcher allowed 11 hits. Futch fanned 14 and walked 6, while Martin had 12 walks and three strikeouts.

The local made eight errors which figured in the scoring of the first seven Buchel runs. The game was held Thursday at 8 o'clock at St. George Catholic Church, with burial in Calvary Cemetery.

Eight airplanes left at Riverport Airport last night at 7 o'clock Sunday morning for breakfast flying to Bowling Green. The group was headed by LaFue Roy, operator of Coy Flying Service. All of the pilots participating were former students of McCoy's.

Members of the group were as follows: Mr. Philip Redman, Capt. James E. Veech and Mrs. Veech, Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. W. 9, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cranon, J. L. Richardson and son, Jackie, Roy, operator of Coy Flying Service, Phil Phillips, Bud Middleton and Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Brock and 9.

Neal Jones, who is here on vacation and visiting parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Jones, will preach at the Jeffersontown Baptist Church at 8 o'clock Sunday.

Neal will return this fall to Tennessee University, Knoxville, Tenn., to resume his ministerial preparation.

City News Glims

Motorists in the city face increased prices for overtime parking—$1 to $3—approved by the Board of Aldermen—$8 for parking in "no parking" zones, $5 for violating no-stopping regulations.

Three Board of Equalization members, Walter Jacobs, E. F. Metzner, Joseph Ray, were re-elected by the Board of Aldermen for another term, beginning in October.

A $10,000 gymnasium and auditorium addition to the Boys Club, 4157 Park Boulevard, is planned by the Optimist Club, with swimming pool later to be added.

A new 750-bed veterans hospital at Louisville tentatively is scheduled to begin operation in May, 1948. C. N. Florence, Corbin, told the 20th American Legion state convention, Louisville, he was quoted information from Washington. "In general, V. A. hospitals are excellent heavy investments and at a peak never before reached," he said. Every year the program is praised by the V. A. program and general medical care was said to be satisfactory.

Lincoln Scholars Delve Into Private Papers

Dr. Louis Warren, of Fort Wayne, Ind., and Dr. William H. Townsend, Lexington, both historians and Lincoln scholars, were present in Washington, in addition to Roy P. Basler, president of the Lincoln Association, Saturday, July 6, when the private papers of the Great Emancipator, Abraham Lincoln, were revealed after being sealed under terms of his son, Robert T. Lincoln, until 21 years after his death. Robert T. Lincoln died July 26, 1926.

The papers revealed little to Lincoln scholars, according to report, but, again, they revealed much as verification to what had been generally known. They will have a fitting place in history.

Dr. Warren will be remembered as coming to Kentucky and endeavoring to build the Lincoln birthplace for several years to be able to be close to Kentucky history. He is now in Lexington, where he is working on a book, "The Home of Mary Todd, Lexington."

The letters and papers found in 140 volumes are proving of continued interest.

Thus far no hint of scandal has issued from the heritage.

One of the documents—a letter written by Lincoln's step-brother, John D. Johnson—blasted the suspicion of illegitimacy, John D. Johnson, a Dutchman, in Elizabeth, when he was a boy, was a Dutchman and worked for more than ten years to restore production. "Let no Dutchman name the illusion he will find his plantations and estates in an undamaged condition," they said.

Wealthy landowners in China have been asked by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek to stop the burden of supplying the Chinese army with 2,000,000 tons of food in the next year, relieving the small farmer who is being pressed to supply the civilian population. He pointed to foreign accusations that his government is "shot through with corruption, inefficiency, incompetence and nepotism."

Russia reports an excellent wheat crop. The Soviet news agency report said that Russia could have sold Britain 1,000,000 tons of wheat at a profit of 1,500,000 out of the 1946 prospective with some to spare. The Soviet is reported to be offering to sell and trade in grain with those countries in Eastern Europe wanted to trade or sell.

Date for the marriage of Princess Elizabeth and Lieut Philip Mountbatten has been set for Tuesday, November 18, at Westminster Abbey, London, according to a news report. The official announcement is expected from the Privy Council which meets Friday of this week. It is to be an elaborate wedding, in keeping with established tradition.

Three Jewish terrorists were hanged in Palestine by the British at dawn July 28, in Acre Prison, and buried at Safad. Pious Jews had been killed and others to save the lives of two British sergeants held by the "underground" forces.

Discontent usually comes from getting everything one wants without a struggle. Mr. J. Edgar Hoover, U. S. Attorney General, said that he was not a man who would get everything he wanted without a struggle.

Remember the times when more automobiles drivers than pedestrians were seen under automobiles?

If some people were as near perfect as they think others are—wouldn't this be a swell world?

Great Britain is considering reducing her armed forces as an economy measure. Cost of maintaining the great army in the United States is a heavy burden on the government to suggest a bond issue of $10,000,000 in that country to be subscribed by the war veterans.

Methodists Seek Rural Church Improvement

The Methodist Church, at its first national rural life convention, held at New York, N. Y., drew from President Truman, endorsement of the church's efforts to enrich rural life and revitalize the rural church.

We must not lose sight of the fact that the church is the only institution which has the solid foundation upon which society rests," the President wrote in a message to the conference called by the Methodist Council of Bishops.

A total of 278 Kentucky World War II veterans have completely repaid the amount of $850, 182 which they had borrowed for home, farm and business purposes under a special provision of the GI Bill, the Veterans' Administration reported today.

Waterfield Winner If Better Elements Vote

MACHINE POLITICS VS THE PEOPLE

It was claimed this week by followers of Harry Lee Waterfield that subversive groups from both political parties are uniting their efforts to defeat Waterfield in Saturday's primary.

The Clinton publisher, seeking the Democratic nomination for Governor, was gaining ground in the race, however, according to headquarters reports.

Assisting Brother Overman in the meeting will be the two Brethren, Joseph Hanks, in Elizabethtown, Ky., in 1880. His mother died in 1818 when he was 9 years old and his father married a widow, Sarah Bush Johnston. The letters revealed Lincoln's magnanimous nobility character in many ways, particularly shown in his exercise of power to pardon.

For example, when Gen. Benjamin A. Butler came to Washington to urge summary execution of 24 deserters whose sentences the president had commuted, Lincoln told him: "Mr. General, there are already too many weeping widows in this country. If God's sake, don't ask me to add to the number, for I won't do it." There were many threatening letters received by Lincoln, but he never read the real man that he was.

A message this week from Mrs. Jones, who is at the Columbia Bible School camp for boys, Ben Lippen, Asheville, N.C., states he is having a grand time from there he will go to Columbia, S.C., to be with Walter Carpenter III for several weeks.

Mrs. Margaret Henderson has returned home from spending a week's vacation in Bowling Green.

Mrs. Emma Bell Sprowl, Mission, Texas, will stop over in Louisville, Sunday for a few hours, en route to New Jersey, where she will visit her brother-in-law, Irvin Sprowl, who is said to be seriously ill. The Sprowls were formerly residents of Jeffersonton.

DO WE NEED A NEW CONSTITUTION?

This question has been asked and has been debated for and over for many weeks. Editorials have been written about the subject, the matter has been discussed by lawyers—learned members of the Kentucky Bar Association—discussions have been heard over the radio. There is much in its favor—many changes in the present constitution (not in our minds) are declared to be desirable. Some claim that certain provisions are out of date, others, such as salary limitation ($5,000 a year maximum for state officers) unfair as responsibilities have increased, and other states, paying more, are attracting and obtaining at their increased enlightenment, our "best brains and talent." Other states, our next-door neighbors, such as Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, pay more for their governors, state officials, educators, teachers, and those who serve their counties and municipalities.

Kentucky voters will be asked on November 4 to vote "yes" or "no" on whether a convention should be called to revise the present constitution. This question is, indeed an important and timely one, and voters should inform themselves in the meantime.

The chief objection advanced to a convention appears to be the fear of a long-drawn-out session, tinkering by interest groups, and the cost. Then the convention's new constitution would either be—or it would not be—submitted to the people at a special or regular election.

The Kentucky General Assembly can consider two amendments to the present constitution at each session. Thus desired changes can be made. This is considered the slow way, but more conservative favor generally. Advocates of a convention are urging that their method, regardless of cost, will, in the end, be the better way.

Charles W. McKay, young Louisville attorney who is seeking nomination at the Democratic primary for Railroad Commissioner, is the son of Attorney Wallace A. McKay, who is well known in Jefferson and adjacent counties. Charles has had experience at Frankfort in the office of Secretary of State, has handled legal matters for the federal government in connection with OPA operations and should be well qualified for the post he aspires to fill.

He says the Louisville Tuberculosis Association in its annual report, "If 316 Louisville people were killed in a fire or were drowned the public would be horror-stricken; yet 316 people right here in this community died of tuberculosis in 1946." And that is something to think about.

KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH
BY STEWING GALLOWAY

You've got to repeat that bill immediately or we'll see to it that you never get another public bill.

The Legislature went into action in a few hours and the bill was repealed. So far as I know, the repealing of that bill before the ink was dry had no precedent in any state in the Union, and nothing like it has happened since. Anyway, it was a notable example of pressure group influence in legislation.

As a result of it, the Tax Economy League folded up.

The incident was pretty well forgotten in the few years following, mainly because Kentuckyans wanted to forget it—because it was a blot they wanted to erase from their memory. Nobody can blame them much.

Pressure groups still work in Frankfort when the Legislature is in session. They always will. But it is not likely we will ever see these days. It could be mighty useful as an agency for promoting economy where trimming expenditures is wise, without blighting measures known to further Kentucky's march toward better things.

Maybe the Tax Economy League will be resurrected one of these days. It could be mighty useful as an agency for promoting economy where trimming expenditures is wise, without blighting measures known to further Kentucky's march toward better things.

The American Way

OUR SCHOOLS

By GEORGE PECK

There seems to be something definitely wrong with our present-day educational system. Most certainly our public schools, our schools and colleges are not turning out the same high grade students they did a generation ago.

A business man whom I talked, has perhaps diagnosed the trouble. Each year his company needs a number of men with an additional number of young men. He was quite depressed about the quality of applicants in recent years. He said:

"Most of the boys who apply here for jobs these days are totally unskilled and untrained. Our schools, at least those in my city, have ceased to turn out self-reliant students. We want boys to enter the employ of our company who have initiative and imagination and who can figure out things for themselves."

"But our schools seem to be going in the opposite direction. They are training the child to be taught to look to his teacher for the method of doing things. They want boys who are taught to look to his teacher for the method of doing things."

"The result is that when boys enter our employ, we really have to start their education. This is particularly unfortunate because not only our company but nearly all companies are crying out for young men who can take responsibility, possessing sound judgment and real imagination."

This could be the answer as to why so many of our young people are experiencing difficulty in finding suitable jobs. Many of them are unskilled and are being disturbed about this situation; they simply shrug their shoulders and say that if there are not suitable jobs available to the young, they should be kept just so much longer in school.

Such policy, of course, has resulted in larger enrollments and crowding in our schools; has necessitated more class rooms and more teachers. It almost leads one to wonder whether our schools are run for the benefit of the teachers or of the pupils. Needless to say, and this is rather important, it adds to an already top-heavy tax burden.

Even as recently as a generation ago, many of our young people were through with their schooling at 13 or 14 years of age. They then went to work and our standard of living was argued that this was possible then because of our unexploited natural resources. We still have them plus synthetic resources greater than anything we have.

To The Democratic Voters Of Jefferson County

Dear Fellow Democrats:

The Democratic party in Kentucky this August 2nd needs the support and cooperation of each and every registered voter. We need to have a well-organized and winning ticket in November. I encourage my candidates for Railroad Commissioner of the Third District, at the request of a large number of the Democratic leaders of Jefferson and adjoining counties in this District. I am a young man and feel well qualified to be selected for the nomination for my experience in State and Federal Government, agencies and having been a member of the Kentucky and Louisville Bar Associations for over 10 years. I am now associated in the practice of law with my father, Mr. Wallace A. McKay, who has been active at the bar for many years and a life long Democrat.

I have never sought office before, but have served the Democratic party loyally since I was 21 years of age, and will refer you to any Democratic leader in Jefferson and neighboring counties, as to my steadfast devotion to the party, its organization and nominees, and as to my character, record and qualifications.

If we recognize the alert and active young Democrats of the State, by bringing to our party a new spirit and a new ambition for higher ideals in our public life.

It must be clear to every thinking Democrat, that there is a real demand among the rank and file of our party, for some young men in leadership, and new blood on the Democratic ticket. Men who are wide awake and progressive, men who are imbued with the new spirit of the times, and will aid in ushering in a new Kentucky. I trust my candidacy will meet this demand in the eyes of progressive Democrats of Kentucky.

I am appealing for your support and influence for my nomination in August, and for a winning ticket in November.

Yours very truly, known in the past. Undoubtedly schooling should not be finished at age 13 or 14. But the point is, are the extra years of school attendance fitting the pupils to be more useful citizens? The business man quoted is convinced that they are not doing so; that our present-day educational system is smothering the initiative so necessary to maintain a free economy. Can he be that out of touch with reality? Are the modern methods are simply serving to equip our children to be slaves of a totalitarian government, under which they will be told what to do and when and how to do it?

For 150 years, due to no small degree to the training of our young in our schools, we developed a people who relied upon themselves, and whose courage and spirit of enterprise built the greatest nation of free people in all the world's history. Today due in large degree to faulty teaching in our schools, we are developing into a people who look to government in every extremity, forgetting that in a Republic we ourselves are the government and should take care of ourselves.

Good Americans, then do good. We know it is good—essential, but it looks as though our present educational methods are failing to develop young men and women with independence of thought and integrity of character. Take a look at the schools and school teachers in your community. If they are falling down on the job of turning out good Americans, then do something about it. You can do something about it. If you have the will to do it.

AMERICA'S AIR POWER

on AIR FORCE DAY, AUGUST 1ST

No one today questions the fact that the whole future of the United States may rest in the very clouds over your head. And the new, reorganized Air Forces give thousands of eligible young men an opportunity to take an active part in building America's air power... on the ground as well as in the sky.

You may, for example, enlist in the Air Forces for three years. If you have a specialty which will qualify you, you may also be able to enlist in a grade at higher pay.

If you have had Air Forces experience, you may join the Air Reserve and continue your military aviation training outside of business hours.

Or, you may join the Air National Guard and perhaps become eligible for advanced technical training at special Air National Guard schools.

On Air Force Day, make a point of finding out everything about your Air Forces — especially the new Aviation Career Plan described below. Full details can be obtained at your U. S. Army Recruiting Station.

NOW—THE WORLD'S GREATEST OPPORTUNITY FOR A CAREER IN AVIATION

Today the Army Air Forces offer high school graduates an unprecedented opportunity to get the finest aviation schooling on earth — and select your school or course before you enlist.

The AAF Career Plan is unlike anything ever offered before. It permits selected high school graduates to apply and qualify for AAF specialized courses of their own choice. Simply go to your U. S. Army Recruiting Station, advise the Recruiting Officer the kind of aviation training you want and he will provide you with an application blank and a complete list of available courses.

When you are selected to attend the course of your choice, you enlist in the Army Air Forces for 3, 4 or 5 years. After your basic training period you are guaranteed the education you have selected to make you a specialist in the type of work you want.

Get a list of all the schools and courses open to you under the AAF Aviation Career Plan at your U. S. Army Recruiting Station.

IF you believe in boss-dominated machine politics...

IF you think a professional politician can do a better job in public office than a trained and experienced business executive...

IF you believe in letting the gambling "rackets" operate wide-open in city and county...

IF you think it all right for these dives to take 10 million dollars annually from Louisville people...

IF you approve of a system in which gambling interests and underworld characters flaunt the law, dominate government and control the law-enforced agencies.

Poem to Senator Borah By M. H. Thatcher

Participating in the exercises attending the unveiling of a statue of the late Senator William F. Borah, of Idaho, in the rotunda of the National Capitol, Washington, D. C. Friday afternoon, June 6, 1947, at 2 o'clock, former (times) Representative from Kentucky Maurice H. Thatcher, read a poem, composed by him, in honor of the end of an address of tribute by Hon. Henry C. Dworshak of Idaho, another address. The address of memorial tribute and poem-reading were in Senate chamber on that day, followed by the unveiling, Gov. C. A. Robins accepted the statue on behalf of the State of Idaho. Mr. Thatcher's poem follows:

"WHEN BORAH DIED
"When Borah died, a giant fell;
A trumpet still, death may dispel.
The mortal senses and the frame,
But not the glory of a name.
The praise of which death helps to swell.

"In him Isaiah's gift did dwell;
In him the graces did excel.
Alas! Lord and seemed not the same,
When Borah died!

"His final place Time's score will tell;
But those who lived within the spell
Of that great voice, are sure his fame
Will burn with primal, quenchless flame;
But oh! the grief, as tolled the bell—
When Borah died!"

Uncle Sam Says

All of us would like to put dad on a pedestal on Father's Day to show him how we feel about him the year round. I like to think of all American fathers in the role of Minute Men, standing guard over the security of their families. Certainly they could do no better than to assure the happiness of themselves and their homes than by buying United States Savings Bonds regularly. Two automatic bond buying plans are available now. If dad is on a payroll, the Payroll Savings Plan will assure him days of ease when he gets ready to retire. If dad is a professional man or self-employed, he can use his checking account to buy a bond a month.

Mattie Frederick At German Health Resort

Wiesbaden, Germany, July 18, 1947—Sgt. Mattie J. Frederick daughter of Russell Frederick of Route No. 1, Jeffersontown, Ky. will have much to tell about Germany when she returns to the States. Wiesbaden itself, now the home of the Headquarters, United States Air Forces in Europe, the organization policing occupied Germany from the air, is one of the most famous spa and health resorts of prewar Europe, the organization policing occupied Germany from the air, is one of the most famous spa and health resorts of prewar Europe, the organization policing occupied Germany from the air, is one of the most famous spa and health resorts of prewar Europe.

The Wiesbaden Military Command has taken over many of the famous buildings of the city. For example, the Kurhaus, famous casino built in the Classic style, is now the home of the American Red Cross Club. Hotels and Pensions have been taken over for billets and just ask Sgt. Frederick when she gets back about the hot mineral baths. Sgt. Frederick, with her fellow soldiers is taking her job with the Occupation Forces seriously. With the German youth activities program, which seeks to bring the benefits of the democratic way to the youth of postwar Germany offers her a change from the more serious job of policing the occupied country.

All in all, says Sgt. Frederick, life with the Army in occupied Germany is an interesting one.

Our deepest sympathy goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Brannan whose infant daughter was born Friday night and buried Saturday evening at Jeffersontown Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Noel Bruce and daughter, Norma Jean spent Sunday visiting relatives and friends in Bowling Green, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. Noel Bruce and family attended the service at the Catholic Tabernacle recently and it was grand.

The church Saturday morning gave time at the B. T. U. party given by Mrs. Thomas Brannan last Friday night.

The writer heard a friend, Mrs. Harvey McGruder talking over the radio on the street man show. Gave me an idea I had to go to town next day and went down to Beuten and Langen and sure enough got on the show and came home with the beautiful orchid.

"Rose Marie" Is Final Amphitheatre Offering

The Louisville Park Theatrical Association has saved one of the best of its presentations until the close of the 1947 season. It brings the Rudolph Friml musical, "Rose Marie" to the Iroquois Amphitheatre August 5-10.

The familiar love story of the beautiful Canadian lass, Rose Marie and Jim Kenyon is delightfully portrayed by Walter Casel and Victoria Schools. They have a splendid support cast of such stars as Nina Olivette, Charlie Watts, John Silver, Donald Burr and others.

Amphitheatre regulars will welcome the return of Mr. Casel as an old favorite. He received rave notices and enthusiastic ovations from his audiences when he appeared last year in "New Moon" and later as the Red Shadow in "Desert Song."

INCREASE IN VETS TAKING ON-FARM TRAINING

The number of World War II veterans taking on farm training and related classroom instruction in Kentucky has soared from 1,000 to 8,000 during the past 12-month period, the Veterans Administration Regional Office reports.

Both totals include volunteers training under the G. I. Bill for the non-disabled and the Vocational Rehabilitation Act for the disabled.

SMOKE RINGS

—By Chazlie Vestline

It was Buechel's all the way at the Junior Olympics with Fin castle challenging right down to the finish.

Scotty, Vic Williams, John Masters, Bill Janney and their boys came, saw, had a big time and conquered—Vic, who handled the runners, marked up on other score in his work for boys and girls.

Young Oakley Brown, Jr. Ray Smith and that Fin castle Committee had reason to crow because the speedy Finns finished only 3 points behind the flashy Buechel outfit.

Bumped into Dr. Bill and Rachel Watson in town and Bill had his chest all pushed out as he said, "See what Buechel did in your Olympics."

They tell me that all over Buechel and Fin castle not to mention St. Matthews, Lyndon, Fairdale, Fern Creek, Shelbyville, and all the rest of the citizens were mighty proud of the showing their kids made in the famous Junior Olympics.

There was history made by that Junior Olympic Village camp and all of Jefferson County is looking forward to next summer's camp—already calls are coming in to the office asking how can they kid get in on next year's festa?

E. P. White, Jr., the county commissioner who goes all the way for kids, spent the biggest part of Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the camp and the track meet having fun with the kids.

If it wasn't for the fact that E. P. had to take time out to attend church practice he'd have been there all the time.

One Smoke never knew until Saturday that Commissioner White is an old track star himself holding a record in the shot put back when Smoke Ringer was in rompers.

Max Sanders spent a lot of time with the youngsters he has seen all for so did Ann Krieger, H. L. Scott, Ben Gramig, Ed Young, George Walsh and Mary Stroutman of Shelbyville.

The tickets are ready, the plans are laid as all Jefferson County marks it's calendar for the big closing show of the summer.

Folk Games At Fincastle August 8

From all over Jefferson County kids will gather at Fincastle for the Folk and Music Festival in August. The big affair, sponsored by the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board, will show the folk dances and the music engaged in on the playgrounds this summer.

If you haven't heard the All-County band play so yet; if you haven't heard the choral groups developed by Margaret Clayton King and if you haven't seen Sheriff Brakemeier's folk dancers "Go Struttin'" then you've got your chance at Fincastle on August 8th.

The Festival is to be staged outdoors on the hillside which forms a natural amphitheatre overlooking the beautiful housing project. Ray Smith and his Fincastle Recreation Committee have promised a great festa for the Jefferson County folks gathering to see the social side of Jefferson County recreation.

According to Smith the people who saw the athletic side at the Junior Olympics, haven't really seen the program of the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board until they have seen how people, who don't engage in athletics, have fun in the county recreation program.

Fincastle is making plans to erect bleachers all around the ball diamond and set up lights for the Folk Festival and really about Jefferson County an all-out good time—you guessed it, there'll be plenty to eat because that open air on Poplar Level Road and Fincastle Avenue makes for a large appetite.

Farm Bureau News From County, State and Nation

Illinois Corn Outlook
Below Forecast

Kentucky farmers are always more or less interested in the crops of neighbor states, and information the first of this week from Chicago made public by the Illinois Agricultural Association was to the effect that federal forecasts may be "a bit optimistic." The government figures were quoted as 600,000,000 bushels for Illinois.

The farm group said that with a "fair share" of hot weather the warm growing nights and a reasonably late fall, the Illinois corn harvest would come within 70 or 80 percent of last year's record-breaking crop which topped 600,000,000 bushels. However, some of the Association's directors believed the federal prediction was a little too high. Southern Illinois corn prospects are "good all around," the farm leaders said. Gloomiest prospects were reported from areas north and west of St. Louis and the north central part of the state.

The wheat picture was good, however, the I.A.A. said a bumper wheat crop now is being harvested with yields averaging up to 30 to 40 bushels an acre. Oats, about to be harvested, are light and chaffy, the farm leaders said. Yields were expected to be below last year's banner crop. Soybeans, however, are about average.
